

CORNER COUNTRY FLORA

The Corner Country supports a host of vegetation types, from trees and shrubs, to saltbushes and grasses. Whilst some plants are found only in this region, many are also found in other locations across arid Australia.

They provide shelter and food for native animals, birds and the sheep and cattle of our pastoral industry.

Trees and shrubs
over five metres.

Column one
Mulga
Black oak

Column two
Pin cushion hakea
River red gum

Column three
Blood wood
Weeping pittosporum

Column four
Black box
Gidgee

Below
Bullock bush

Mainly palatable shrubs, grasses and forbs.

Column one
Blue bush
Samphire
Salt bush

Column two
Pop salt bush

Column three
Wire grass
Five minute grass

Column four
Mitchell grass
Pale poverty bush
Limestone copperburr

Below
woollybutt

Top
Punty bush

Myriad wildflowers grow in the Corner Country.

Column one
Foxtail
Abutilon
Wild hops

Column two
Annual yellow-top
Darling pea

Column three
Orange pea
Nulla nulla

Column four
Sturt's desert pea
Nardoo

Below
Minnie daisy

Top
Poached egg daisies

Design and images
Ruth Sandow © 2007